A WAR ON OUR CARRIERS. In Attempt to Break Down Our New System of Delivery. THE NATIONAL REPUBLICAN yesterday naugurated a revolution for the benefit of its subscribers and to protect its own interests, and this revolution was attended, like such movements generally are, with some feeling and with actual THE REPUBLICAN has rendered it necessary to improve and reorganize the earrier system, so as to usure the prompt delivery of the paper to city subscribers. It was found necessary to largely increase the number of carriers, and also to increase carrier-boys in certain districts. Notice was given to all parties interested that the change would go into effect on the 1st day of April. Some of the old route agents, regarding this innovation as an invasion of their rights, declined to go into the new arrangement, and their places were filled with new men. The ex-route-agents also, it appears, influenced the carrier-boys in their employ, who were familiar with the various routes, to refuse to render any service under the new arrangement. So yesterday morning the city edition of THE NA-TIONAL REPUBLICAN was intrusted to the hands of an almost entirely new set of route-agents and carriers for delivery to the subscribers. Every subscriber would have received his REPUBLICAN yesterday morning probably earlier than heretofore" had it not been for the ruffianly means employed in certain sections to defeat the accomplishment of the plans of the publishers. It was rumored the night before that there would be trouble, and some of the boys that were employed to take the places of the old carriers were threatened with bodily injury if they attempted to deliver the papers intrusted to them. Consequently many of the boys started upon their mission yesterday morning with much trepidation; and in some cases, That the said special partner, SAMUEL C. PULL-MAN, has contributed the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars in cash as capital to the common stock, and that the partnership is to commence on the FIRST DAY OF APRIL, 1881, and is to terminate on the THIRTY-FIRST DAY OF MARCH, 1885.

Ing with much trepidation; and in some cases, for the purpose of protection, the boys were doubled and made their journeys in pairs. Many of the boys were harassed on their way, especial trouble being met with in delivering the papers through the northeastern section of the papers. through the northeastern section of the city. One of the carrier-boys was waylaid on North Capitol street, near I, by a mob of young ruffians, who assaulted him, stole his papers, and tore them into strips. Other boys returned to the office with similar tales, though in no case did the violence perpetrated equal the outrage on North Capitol street. In some localities the method adopted by these obstructionists was to follow the carriers and steal the papers from the doorsteps of the houses as fast as delivered and destroy them. The carrier's route could be traced by the fragments of paper strewn along the sidewalks. For the reasons given above many of THE REPUB-LICAN's subscribers were deprived of their papers yesterday morning. Later in the day the hoodums who were engaged in this business of theft and violence amused themselves by standing on the street corners and insolently yelling at subscribers who had been the victims of their serious April-fool hoax, "You didn't get your paper this morning, did you?" or some other words of similar purport. The publishers of THE REPUBLICAN took measures yesterday to secure police protection for its carriers. The County, Pennsylvania. REPUBLICAN offers a reward of $25 for the arrest and conviction of the party or parties who instigated the assault on the boy on North Capitol street and the malicious destruction of papers in various parts of the city. THE PLUGGERS' PLEDGE.

They Abide Faithfully by It-The Executive Committee at Work.

The "pluggers" kept their pledge yesavenue, having been sold to Messrs. Barbour & Hamilton, as mentioned in The Republican Thursday morning, the Washington Light Infantry Corps have been notified to remove their armory. terday, and 353 telephones, or about that number, creased. It is related that several of the "plugmessages; but, like Rip Van Winkle, they satisfied their consciences by saying, "This time don't count."

It is also on record that "central office" was called up several times during the day, and when the call was answered was greeted by a ghostly voice, yelling, defiantly: "I am a plugger." The individual "pluggers" assert their determination to keep their pledge until the association orders otherwise. The impression among the persons interested in the telephone company seems to be that within a few days all differences will be satisfactorily arranged and the hum of voices will again be heard over the wires.

A Free Fight Results in a Raid. A disorderly house on Eleventh street, below C street northwest, kept by a woman named Mattie Owens was raided by Licutenant Arnold and a posse of Fifth Precinct officers last night. The proprietress and half a dozen male and female inmates were captured, all of whom were locked up at the station-house. A fight occurred in the house on Thursday night between several of the female boarders, in which one of them was badly bitten in the arm and shoulder, and she yesterday swore out an information against the madame in
